Permissions

As a general rule, permission should be sought from the rights holder to reproduce any substantial part of a copyrighted work. This includes any text, illustrations, charts, tables, photographs, or other material from previously published sources. Obtaining permission to re-use content published by Elsevier is simple. Follow the guide below for a quick and easy route to permission.

Permission guidelines

For further guidelines about obtaining permission, please review our Frequently Asked Questions below:

Is Elsevier an STM signatory publisher? –

Yes, Elsevier is a signatory to the STM (International Association of Scientific, Technical & Medical Publishers) Permissions Guidelines, last updated March 2015 (<http://www.stm-assoc.org/copyright-legal-affairs/permissions/permissions-guidelines/>) . The Guidelines encourage the granting of permission by one STM signatory publisher to another to re-use limited amounts of material from published works in subsequent publications. Permission will be granted by one signatory publisher to another free of charge to:

- Use up to three figures (including tables) from a journal article or book chapter, but:
- not more than five figures from a whole book or journal issue/edition;
- not more than six figures from an annual journal volume;
- not more than three figures from works published by a single publisher for an article;
- not more than three figures from works published by a single publisher for a book chapter; and in total not more than thirty figures from a single publisher for republication in a book, including a multi-volume book.

- Single text extracts of less than 400 words from a journal article or book chapter, but:
- not more than a total of 800 words from a whole book or journal issue/edition.

Permission automatically includes re-use for electronic versions of the work as well as for subsequent editions and translations, except as outlined on the STM website. When granting permissions, STM publishers will not request a complimentary copy of the new work except in limited circumstances. For further information please visit the STM website (<http://www.stm-assoc.org/permissions-guidelines/>) or visit the Permissions Helpdesk.

Obtaining permission to use content on ScienceDirect

If the content you wish to re-use is on ScienceDirect, (<http://www.sciencedirect.com/>) you may request permission using the Copyright Clearance Center's RightsLink® service. Simply follow the steps below:

- 1 Locate your desired content on ScienceDirect. Subscribers will be able to view all content and guest users can view open access content and abstracts for free simply by clicking on the article or chapter title.
- 2 Determine if the content is open access or subscription access. If you are reading an Elsevier published article online, you need to look out for the "Open Access" orange label located under the article's title and author information. You will also be able to identify any relevant open access articles in your search results by looking for the same label. To find out how you can reuse an open access article, look underneath the title and click on the license hyperlink for exact details on the user license selected by the author. If your reuse is not covered by the user license, please proceed to the next step.
- 3 Click on the 'Get rights and content' button located under the author details, adjacent to the DOI.

For further information about RightsLink® please click here (<http://www.copyright.com/rightsholders/rightslink-permissions/>) .

For questions about using the RightsLink service, please contact Customer Support via phone 877/622-5543 (toll free) or 978/777-9929, or email ✉ customercare@copyright.com (mailto:customercare@copyright.com).

Please note: When you create an account with RightsLink you will be asked to provide either your credit card information or an invoicing address. This does not necessarily mean that your request will be subject to a permissions fee; it is part of the registration process only. You can determine whether your request is subject to a fee by clicking on the "quick price" button after you have made your selection on how you wish to use the material.

Obtaining permission to use content on ClinicalKey (Book Search)

If the content you wish to re-use is available on Clinicalkey, (<https://www.clinicalkey.com.au/#!>) you may request permission using the Copyright Clearance Center's RightsLink® service. Simply follow the steps below.

- 1 Locate your desired content on ClinicalKey. Click on the Books tab which is beneath the Search and Browse options and this will take you to a new window in which you need to enable all content by moving the toggle from Subscribed Content
- 2 Enter the book name in the box that reads ‘Filter List by Title’.
