

Calculate the range, the interquartile range, and the standard deviation for the income distribution in Tristras. Discuss the affordances and limitations of how these three measures allow to observe higher or lower inequality in Tristras versus the four countries you have seen in the previous activity.

